Tribal member update on the Community WI-FI

Unfortunately, the company supplying the free community WI-FI to the Reservation has decided that with schools resuming and most of the country moving past COVID mandates, they will no longer be serving our community. They have not given us a specific date to shut off services, but we expect it to be sometime in the month of July. The Council moved quickly on passing a motion to secure an alternate provider, and the Tribal IT Department has already signed contracts to provide another 2 years of WI-FI for the community. Due to the time required to move equipment over and set up new services, we are unfortunately expecting an interruption to WI-FI services, potentially for several weeks. As plans move forward and dates become more clear, we will continue updating the community via the Tribe's website, the Gam'yu, and KWLP The Peach Radio. Thank you for your patience and understanding in this matter as we work to get everything back up and running as fast as possible.

GATHERING OF THE PAI TRIBES

Makes return after 2 years

By: DAWN BEAUTY (Pai Woman)
picture credit Edwina Hazelwood

An event that was once held annually has once again returned, as large gathering restrictions have been lifted. The event started in 1999 and was first hosted by the Yavapai-Apache Nation. The Pai tribes are Hualapai, Havasupai, Camp Verde Yavapai-Apache Nation, Fort McDowell Yavapai, Prescott Yavapai and the Pai Pai from Mexico. The tribes rotate hosting this Gathering and the location is held on the hosting tribe's reservation.

This year's hosting tribe was the Hualapai Tribe, the People of the Tall Pines. This year's event was titled Ba Wasivk Ba Way gil'ija "Memories" during opening ceremonies the Pai Women title holders performed a sacred Spirt Run. This Run was to give honor to the Pai Women title holders who have passed and to their surviving families.

Once the Spirt Run was completed the festivities continued with the opening performance given by the Havasupai Ram dancers. They kicked off the celebration by encouraging all to hold hands in unity and to dance for all living things. Spectators joined the Ram dancers as they danced the circle dance. This performance was followed by the hosting tribes Peach Springs Bird Singers, they sang traditional gourd songs, while the Hualapai women danced the bird dance.

The afternoon performances started back up with the Yavapai-Apache Nation Warrior-ettes. They performed a war dance, this dance was traditionally performed by women when the men did not return from war and was done to honor them. The Warriorettes were led by drumming and singing of the Fort McDowell Meswadae singers.

The Havasupai Ram Dancers started the day's performances. The Havasupai Basket dancers made an appearance and showcase Havasupai baskets and to honor the skill of basket making. The performances came to an end by opening up to all singers and dancers. The next Gathering of the Pai Tribes will be held on the Fort McDowell Reservation 2023.

Press Release

Yavapai-Apache Nation Warriorettes from Camp Verde, dancers included Royalty form the YAN Nation.

The Havasupai Ram Dancers started the day's performances.

Club Begins Restoration Of Cemetery

By Helen Pearson, AZ Republic May 12, 1964

SELIGMAN—The Seligman Lions Club, with help from the Woman's Club and other organizations and individuals, is restoring the town cemetery.

There are fewer than 100 graves in the cemetery near the Santa Fe Railway yards.

DESCENDANTS of many of those buried there do not live in Seligman. Through the years the little burial ground fell into neglect. It became a place of tottering crosses. A sagging fence allowed livestock to roam through it.

Now, as a part of the beautification project a new fence surrounds the grounds. A ditch is being completed to carry a water pipeline to the cemetery.

One of the best remembered persons buried there is Jim Mahone, a Hualapai Indian.

Mr. Mahone died in August 1949, at age reported from 115 to 120. He served for 20 years with Company D, as a scout for Gen. George Crook.

THE OLD Hualapai was a familiar figure around Seligman and Peach Springs. He was born at Cottonwood Cliffs on Burro Creek and was a teenager before he saw a white man.

In 1899, he received a certificate from Lt. George Elliot, U.S. Army, which read in part: "The bearer Jim Mahone is a tried and intelligent man. He is an old scout having served under General Crook in years gone by. Of him the General says no braver man ever trod shoe leather."

He was a regular competitor in Fourth of July celebrations at Williams in the 1900s where he excelled in foot racing contests.

Even after he was 100 he used to walk to town from his little home on the outskirts of Seligman. He was allowed to eat at cafes for 25 cents a meal, the price he paid when he first became acquainted with this type dining.

HE WAS loved and respected by whites as well as Indians. He often remarked on the subject of death, "Sometime man up there blow light out and old Jim be gone." He would make a motion of blowing out a flame.

When he died Indians came from all over the Southwest and as far as the Dakotas to pay respects.

A wake was held in Peach Springs, and later Mr. Mahone was accorded a full military burial in Seligman. More than 400 attended services.

And because people today still care, the resting place of an old scout, and others, is receiving attention. ■

Shaileen Gonzales

High School Graduation- Kingman High School - May 2022

By: Clarence Gonzales (Rezconnect Ent & Promotions) Lavonne Gonzales

May, is graduation time, whether you're being promoted from eighth grade into high school. Or earning a degree from a college or university. High school is always an exciting time. You're leaving adolescent years, to "either become part of the workforce", or to attend college. Earning, your career doing what you plan on doing for, the rest of your adult life.

Shaileen Gonzales- A member of the Hualapai tribe and by far a pretty knowledgeable young lady. Along, with other graduates from the Kingman high school shared the football field at Kingman high school on Friday, May 27th, in Kingman, AZ.

Shaileen's father is Gary Gonzales Jr., who taught Shaileen the skill of hunting. Shai, as her family calls her, takes part in traditional, cultural teachings. She has learned ethnobotany, tribal stories, how to sew and most of all how to be a great young Hualapai lady. Shai has earned a scholarship, in pharmaceutical, from Mohave Community College.

Recently, Shai has traveled with Bobby Wallace and the red road warriors. Red road warriors, a group of Native American Activists that protest to protect ancestral and tribal lands. While, coordinating a spirit run from Wic'ahme (Spirit Mountain). To the "Ranch", located in Wikieup, AZ. The group attended, Shaileen's graduation. Presenting her with a pendleton blanket. It was definitely, an honor to see this young lady, move forward and to watch Mr. Wallace, present Shaileen with the pendleton blanket.

"Pendleton Blankets, in 1895, the scouring plant was enlarged and converted into a woolen mill which made bed blankets and robes for Native Americans. This venture also failed and the mill went idle. In 1909, the Bishops opened the facility and constructed a new, more efficient mill with aid of a local bond issue. In September of that year, the first products emerged from the new finishing department and the tradition of Pendleton Woolen Mills began"(<https://www.pendleton-usa.com/company-history.html>).

With the tradition of giving a pendleton blanket. There are a few times a person will receive a pendleton. As a gift for a person that is cherished or loved by the giver, it is an honor to receive one. When you have done a great accomplishment and a person or company wants to show appreciation and gratitude. Then, when your time on earth is done. For Native Americans, this is our tradition and culture.

In life, our goal should be to reach for the stars. The sky's the limit, I'm sure we have all heard this saying, if not once then a few times in life.

COMMUNITY MESSAGES

Inspirational & Encouragement Corner
Submitted by: Josie Powsey | Hualapai Tribal Elder

Hello! Gam yu je? Be safe people! Wear your mask at all times!!

Well, another month has gone by. New month of July, time is passing us by—nonstop! Make your days joyful. Be nice and take care of yourselves! Pray as much as you can!

Jesus was despised and rejected. He knew the cross was before Him, but He remained faithful. When the Christian Life gets hard, so many just drop out. He knew His future after the cross, a seat at the right hand of God. You remain faithful, He has a future prepared for you, past the hurt and pain. Amen!

Your mind will feast on whatever you feed it,
Feed it Hope; Feed it God;
Truth and Promises.
Feed it things that uplifts and encourages, inspires and brings peace!
Amen!
